To Decide Final Piace on Toss.

In the event of a seventh game being necessary, the city for holding it will be determined by the toss of a coln. This does not, of course, apply to the games.

IN RACE AT COLUMBUS, O.
Columbus, O., Oct. 2.—Drenched by rain, the Columbus grand circuit track

Wednesday afternoon when an abbreviated program was taken up. Only one of the races started was finished, Bis-mia winning the 2:20 trot after the first heat had been won by George Rex of the Murphy stable.

bertus Perfecto Demaree threatens to lead all the National league pitchers this season, yet he is the most persistent cigar smoker of the Giants. The young idea is taught to believe that no successful athlete uses tobacco, which fact is largely true. Probably "Al" would have been a huskier pitcher if he had not hit the weed so consistently, for he is frail of build.

The call him "Steamer Al" because of his smoking habits. He is seldom without his cigar except during a game. The laws of organized baseball do not permit performers to smoke in husiness hours. The only other time "Al" does not resemble one of those Erie locomotives, which burns soft coal, is when he is asleep. He even lights up one of his cigars before breakfast, and they are the longest, blackest cigars in the world. I know because I have tried to smoke one and falled, even after a meal. It is a secret where he gets them, but it is one of those secrets that few persons have any curiosity of unraveling.

"Al" broke in from the bushes with the Giants late last fall. He hadn't been along more than a few weeks this spring, however, when all the sand burrs were gone from him, and you AUSTRIAN AVIATOR MAKES

Men Who Will Fight For the World's Championship "Steamer Al" Demarce, the Pitching Cartoonist of the Giants

(By Sloane Gordon)

Who Will Win the World's Championship?

HE HERALD has a hunch but wishes to print the opinions of the fans.

There is a reason for each opinion. It is this reason that The Herald sporting editor wishes. Send in your choice for world's champions and the whyfore and it will appear on the sport page of The Greater Sunday Herald. A paragraph will be enough so everyone will have a chance. be described as just green like the college freshman and the debutante with her first train dress. He is not so much of an artist, however, that he wears Windsor ties.

"Al" came to the Giants late last fall from Mobile, where he had been working for "Mike" Finn, a close friend of McGraws in the minors. "Mike" had recommended to the Giants' manager that he would find Demarce to be mostly pitcher, and, after scratching the surface, that is what John has discovered. And he was welcome with the Giants this year, too, with Charley M. Teareau returning to his wild habits. "Al" joined the Giants too late to have anything to do with the world's series last year on account of the rules."

I throughout the series and pitch for batting practice. The other players would practice. The other players would not put the same for this service from their share of the gate.

"Al" depends largely on two things for his pitching success, his head and his control. He does not carry much speed, and his curve is not a wide one, but he puts the bail where he wants it. He is, one of those pitchers who keeps the batters wondering; after fanning out, why they can't hit him because he "hasn't got nothing." He is no squab when it comes to age, being about 27 or 28.

His two prize possessions now are his green hat and Honus Wagner's "goat." the Dutchman never having been able to hit him consistently. "Al" leaguer. He has been taking his turn in the box with the regulars all season and taking it much better than some of the veterans.

"Al" is talented. He is not only a good pitcher, but he is also an artist of no mean ability as blographers say. When he isn't pitching baseball, he is in there cartooning somebody, and he gets his drawings into the papers right along. If anything, he prefers being an artist to pitching baseball, because this form of exercise does not interfere with his pleasure, which is smoking the black cigars already referred to. Perhaps that is where he got the smoking habit—while learning his crayon art. Anyway he certainly has got it. He also dresses after the manner of an artist in some ways. For instance, he purchased a green hat, after the straws went out of the ring recently, which could have been used for a starboard light on the any ocean liner. It was one of those hats that can only BOXING affairs in El Paso and Jua-rez, have livened up considerably with the announcement that Max Halford and Eddle Duffey have started

The Indians, however, have acquired an outfielder, a pitcher and two infielders since their last appearance at Washington park, and as there is an old score to settle between the opposing clubs, it seems that two interesting hard fought battles are certain to be the outcome. Eddie Ward, manager of the Indians, made a proposition to the El Paso officials for the loan of Hugh Harbin, former Galveston twirler and drafted by the Cincinnati Reds this season, so that he could place him on the rubber Sunday afternoon to work against Cliff Hill, the speedy little southpaw, also an El Paso product. This request was refused by the management.

Shadow boxing, skipping the rope and a four-round setto with Battling Mantell, the snappy little easterner, constituted Duffey's workout Wednesday afternoon. Kid Payo received an offer from Mark Levy, director and promoter of the New Mexico A. C., of Albuquerque, Wednesday, and he announced that it is probable that he will accept. Levy offered the local champion substantial inducements to make the trip and meet Colorado kid Williams, who is credited with a draw with the El Paso boy in an eight-round draw on July 4. Frankie Fowser and Harry Shafer will probably fight the main event to this card, the Williams and Payo bout being billed as a special contest.
